Notorious Gossip

A visiting minister to a Sunday school was called upon to address the children. Thinking to be facetious, he asked this question: "What would you do, before so many bright boys and girls, who expected a speech from you, if you had nothing to say?" "I'd keep quiet," replied a small boy.

The famous counsel had been annoying a witness with some of his questions. The witness, a countryman, objected to counsel's attempts to upset his story, and at length could stand it no longer.

"Luk 'e 'ere," he cried with indignation. "Oi be 'ere to say what Oi be paid to say, and Oi ain't saying nowt else."

After being introduced to a writer named Mr. Hogg, a little lad looked with inquiring eye for some time. Then he asked, "Is that your real name, or your pen-name?"

A boy with a very large mouth was shopping for a mouth organ. Critically he tried every harmonica in the shop, but couldn't find one to suit him.

Finally, the clerk led him to a grand piano. "Here," he suggested, "try running your mouth over these keys!"

"I think the beauticians could get a better name for this apparatus than 'permanent wave machine'."

"I agree with you. I think it should be called 'a short wave set'."

Daughter: "The man that marries me will have to have money to burn."

Father: "Well, he'll meet his match."

A loud grinding noise was heard. The captain ran from the bridge to the helmsman.

Captain: "I thought you told me you knew every rock in this harbour?"

Helmsman: "Yes, sir! That was one of them."

A woman approached a postmaster and said: "I've been expecting a package of medicine for a week back and it hasn't arrived yet."

"For a weak back?" asked the postmaster. "What do you take for it? I have a weak back myself."

"I'm not interested in your back," replied the woman. "What I want is my package of medicine."

"Very well," said the postmaster; "please fill in this form and state the nature of your complaint."

"Well," said the irate woman, "if you really must know, it's indigestion."

OLYMPIA REPORT TO FUHRER

"Hong Kong Daily Press" Special
Herbertsgaden, July 21.

The Fuehrer and Reichs Chancellor received the following telegram from the Greek Olympic Committee from Olympia:

"We announce that the torch has been started from country to country to immortalise the Olympic idea. (sigd. for Olympic Committee: Nikolaides)"

The Fuehrer answered: "I thank you for the report of the start of the Olympic torch. May it arrive happily in Berlin and soon kindle here the Olympic flame that will illuminate the 23rd Olympic Games to a successful conclusion. (sigd. Adolf Hitler)"

OLYMPIC TORCH AT ATHENS

Dedication At Altar

WORLD ATHLETES BLESSED

"Hong Kong Daily Press" Special

Athens, July 22.

At dusk one of the most impressive pageantries in connection with the Olympiad was enacted on the Sacred Acropolis in Athens.

The runner bearing the Olympic torch approached the city at dusk, thus rewarding the thousands of spectators who waited despite the scorching heat the whole afternoon on the Sacred Highway.

The multitude cried "Zito," "Berolina" and "Germania," when the runner passed on his way to the Thessalon, one of the best preserved temples on the Acropolis.

The flame was then carried through the Propylaea to the Parthenon, dedicated to Pallas Athene, where a special altar had been built, and all spectators as well as the regular wardens were kept out.

A guard in ancient dress with shield and helmet, demanded from the runner: "Who are you?" and he answered: "A torch-bearer. I bring flame from the unquenchable fire at the Sacred Altar."

At the altar which was surrounded by the flags of the 52 participating nations and the Swastika and the Olympic flag on high poles, a priest raised the torch overhead and said:

"I proclaim to the human race that the Olympic spirit is not dead. The Olympic flame, unquenchable, will continue to illuminate the people in the world as they devote themselves to peaceful contests. From the depth of centuries I bless the athletes of the world who will participate in the 23rd Olympiad at Berlin from the Temple of Pallas Athene and from the Sacred Rock of the Acropolis."

AT CORINTH
Corinth, July 21.

The Olympic torch-bearer Spiliotopoulos reached here at 11.30 o'clock when he was received by acclamations of the population, who, despite 95 degrees Fahrenheit, had gathered at the Chief Square, reinforced by the population of all the neighbouring villages.

The pealing of church bells announced the arrival of the torch. The runner gave the torch to the Mayor, who thereupon knelt before the fire on the altar before the city hall and a military band played the Greek National Anthem, which was sung by hundreds of school children in gayest clothes. The square was decorated with a vast number of Greek and German National flags.

DANCE AT ALTAR
A number of girls danced the national dance before the altar being filmed by Leni Riefenstahl.

At 12 sharp the bells pealed again, and it was signalled that the torch runner was on his way to Athens. At 12.15 the torch passed the bridge across the Corinth Canal between the Mainland and the Peloponnese, the place over which the legendary King Pelops, to whom the intimation of the Olympic Games is attributed, reigned. In olden days the Olympic Games were in fact part of the funeral service, and are said to have been first staged at the death of King Pelops.

The torch was programmed to reach Athens at 7 o'clock on Tuesday night.

UNEMPLOYMENT ASSISTANCE REGULATIONS

DEBATE IN COMMONS

A Great Social Problem

London, July 21.
The important three days' Commons' debate on the draft unemployment assistance regulations was opened to-day by the Minister of Labour who moved for their approval. The Draft regulations are the second to be issued under the 1934 Act, setting up the new administration of unemployment assistance for those who have exhausted the insurance benefit.

The first draft regulations were partially suspended 18 months ago as a result of general criticism in all parts of the House of Commons. The new regulations if approved, will come into effect on November 16.

Mr. Ernest Brown claimed the proposals formed a sound and just foundation for a solution of great social problem involved. Defending household means test he said, if relief of unemployment was to be charged upon the national exchequer, it was only common justice to all who paid taxes including the ordinary man in work to see to it that the proceeds of their industry were not wantonly and needlessly frittered away. The Minister drew the House's attention to the provisions for more flexible application of rules regarding allowances for rent and for association of local Advisory Committees with cases of which there were many in which discretionary adjustment of payments were permitted. He taunted the Opposition with the failure of attempt which he alleged on their part to stir up agitation in the country against the regulations.

Mr. Arthur Greenwood in moving an amendment for Labour Party condemning regulations declared the Party's unalterable objection to household means test.

MORE MEETING FOR THE THREE POWERS

Ways And Means To Ensure Peace

London, July 21.
A communique issued from the Foreign Office this afternoon states, "As a result of the exchange of views foreshadowed in the communique issued in Geneva on July 4 relating to the further meeting of powers whose representatives drew up the London arrangement of March 19, the Governments of France, Belgium and Britain have now decided that there shall be a meeting in London on July 23 of representatives of these three powers. The object of this meeting will be to examine and to consider how best to further the desires of the three powers to consolidate the peace of Europe by means of a general settlement."

As was stated in the House of Commons last night, the Governments of Germany and Italy have been and will be kept informed. To-day the Foreign Secretary received at Foreign Office both the German and Italian Charges d'Affaires.

THE SPANISH SITUATION

WARSHIPS ORDERED TO SCENE

London, July 21.
Madrid press telegrams to-night report the official Government declaration that the whole of Madrid and the surrounding areas have been cleared of rebels and are now in possession of Spanish Government forces.

Conflicting reports from Government and insurgent sources during day leave the general position obscure, but widespread disturbance prevail, and measures for the safety of British nationals are being supplemented where necessary. In addition to the British warships now at Vigo, Malaga and Tangier, H.M.S. "Witch" is proceeding to Ferrol and H.M.S. "Wren" to Corunna.

The Admiralty announced this evening that the Rear Admiral commanding First Cruiser Squadron has been instructed to send one cruiser to Barcelona and one cruiser to Palma. The cruiser Amphion which sailed to-day to join the Africa station has been ordered to go to Tenerife.

CLYDEBANK'S ACHIEVEMENT

BIG ORDER TO COME

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 27.
For obvious reasons, Lord Aberconway added little yesterday at the annual meeting of John Brown and Co. to what is already known about the projected sister ship to the Queen Mary. He did, however, indicate that if the contract is assigned to Clydebank (as is now almost certain) the new vessel will have all the merits of the Queen Mary and something more, this being possible as a result of the company's persistent research work, particularly in their experimental tank, where hull-forms of all types are continually being investigated. The present is an eventful time for the company. Coinciding with the delivery of the Queen Mary there was turned out the largest ship ever constructed in this country exclusively for the carriage of lubricating oils, orders were booked for several merchant and Admiralty ships, including H.M.S. Maidstone, the large depot ship for submarines, two "T" class destroyers for the British Government, and two destroyers of special design for Argentina. Moreover, they had the distinction of launching H.M.S. Southampton, a cruiser of the new type known by that name.

STAPLES SURPRISES!

SAUSAGES

While they cannot take the place of fresh meat, sausages are a useful stand-by. They keep well, combine easily with other foods, and can be used in many interesting ways for breakfast, lunch, or supper. To fry sausages perfectly they should be rolled in seasoned flour, pricked all over with a fork, and cooked slowly with scarcely any fat in the pan. Sausages are excellent with something of a sharp flavour, such as slices of fried apple or tinned or fresh pineapple.

Other and more unusual ways of serving sausages are as follows. For lunch, serve sausage pie. Cover the bottom of a pre-dish with thick slices of skinned sausage and cover with lightly fried onion. Cover this with sliced, skinned tomatoes, then put another layer of sausage on top, seasoning each layer. Add enough thick gravy almost to cover, then put a layer of mashed potato on top. Roughen with a fork, pour some melted butter over, and cook in a rather hot oven for about an hour.

Here is another luncheon dish. Skin the sausages, allowing two large ones for each person. Form them into circles and make a hollow in each. Dip in seasoned flour and brown on each side in a frying-pan rubbed over with a piece of suet or dripping. Put the sausage on a greased platter and break an egg into each hollow. Season, and bake in the oven until the eggs are just set.

For the following dish large potatoes and chipolata sausages or save-logs will be required. Peel the potatoes and with an apple-corer cut a piece out of the length of them. Pull a sausage through each. Put into a casserole and season the potatoes. Put a rasher of fat bacon over each and pour a little stock or gravy into the casserole. Bake in a hot oven until the potatoes are cooked, basting occasionally.

WITH MASHED POTATO

This is an excellent method of using up sausages, and mashed potatoes. If thick, cut the sausages in halves lengthways. Roll out the mashed potato in portions large enough to cover the sausages. Roll out the mashed potato in portions large enough to cover the sausages. Roll each in potato, brush with egg, and dip in seasoned breadcrumbs. Fry in boiling fat until golden brown. Drain well and serve hot.

Here are some other ways of using up small quantities of sausage meat. For sausage turnovers mix the meat with a small quantity of thick gravy. Roll out some pastry into circles, place a small quantity of meat on each, fasten the edges together, and bake in a hot oven for about twenty minutes; or roll the meat

FAMILY PUDDINGS

Good puddings should form a substantial part of the family dinner in not weather.

Here is a method of making a treacle pudding which may commend itself. Grease a moderate-sized pudding basin with butter or clarified dripping, then prepare a good suet crust with 10oz. of flour 7oz. of chopped suet, a liberal pinch of salt and just sufficient water to mix to a smooth dough. Remember that if suet crust is made too moist, when cooked it will be tough.

Now add to 1lb. of golden syrup 2 oz. of breadcrumbs and a tablespoonful of lemon juice.

With a portion of the crust line the basin, then cover the bottom of it with syrup, over this lay a round of crust, then syrup and layers of crust until the basin is full. The top layer must, of course be crust.

Pinch the edges of the lining and the cover together, lay over the top a clean pudding cloth, tie it in the usual manner and boil or steam the pudding about 1½ hours. By enclosing the pudding in the basin the syrup is effectively retained and the whole, being devoid of added water, is richer and better in flavour.

Fig pudding, which is a very nourishing plain pudding, is much more tasty when equal quantities of breadcrumbs and flour are used instead of flour only.

Try this recipe: 4 oz. of flour, 4 oz. of breadcrumbs, 5 oz. of chopped suet, 8 oz. of figs (cut in small dice), 4 oz. of brown sugar, the grated rind of an orange, a pinch of salt, 2 beaten eggs and sufficient milk to make the whole the consistency of a plain plum pudding. Turn into a well-buttered basin and steam or boil 3 hours.

A cornflour blanc-mange can be fashioned into a very good imitation of a lemon cream.

Pare the rind of a large lemon so thin that no white pith is visible, add it to 1 pint of new milk and bring both together, extremely slowly, to the boil.

Slake 2 tablespoonfuls of cornflour with a little cold milk; strain the lemon from the milk in the saucepan and stir it to the cornflour, until smooth. Pour back into the pan and cook for 6 minutes slowly, constantly stirring.

Now beat together 1½ ozs. of castor sugar with 2 whole eggs. Stir these to the blanc-mange and cook, without letting it come actually to the boil, for 3 minutes. Set in a mould and turn out when cold.

In boiling fat. Drain well and serve hot or cold, round hard-boiled eggs and fry

COINS AND MEDALS

SPECIAL EXHIBIT AT THE BRITISH MUSEUM

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 30. In connexion with the International Numismatic Congress, which opens to-day at University College, London, a special exhibition has been arranged in the entrance hall of the British Museum, of coins and medals acquired during the last 25 years under Sir George Hill's Keepership and Directorship. Among the coins of ancient Greece are included many fine specimens from the Sir Hermann Weber collection, notably pieces of Himeria, Macedonia, and Chalcis, a very fine Syracusean medallion presented through the National Art-Collection Fund by Mr. Henry Van den Bergh, and another by the "unknown artist" bequeathed by the late Mr. E. P. Thompson, a fine silver medallion of Carthage and a Cypriote stater, both presented by Mr. C. S. Gulbenkian, and a fine stater of Meles given by the late Mr. Henry Oppenheim. Among coins purchased, special attention may be called to the medallion commemorating Alexander the Great's victory on the Indus; and a gold coin of Juba II of Mauritania, grandson of Cleopatra. Two cases are devoted to Roman coins. The most notable gold pieces are the two medallions of Constantine II from the Arras find, commemorating Britain's return to her allegiance to Rome after the revolt of Carausius and Allectus. Other rare pieces are the aureus of Faustina I, wife of Antoninus Pius, commemorating her foundation of an orphanage for girls; this came from the great Corbridge find. Among the silver and bronze coins of special interest are the fine series of early Republican pieces and the coins of Carausius, the British emperor. The Oriental series has been much strengthened in the period covered, and the most notable single coins is the unique portrait of the Moghul Emperor Akbar, presented by the National Art-Collection Fund. The English series is perhaps the one that has received the most remarkable accessions. Almost every coin exhibited is of special historic or artistic interest; there are, for example, the series of coins of Cymbeline, the gold dinar of Offa, and the unique penny of Howell Dda, king of Wales, the florin of Edward III, the crown of the rose of Henry VIII, and the Briot pattern crown of Charles I in gold. Two cases of Italian and other medals contain fine examples of the work of Pisanello, Sperandio and Matteo de' Pasti, and other pieces of artistic and historical interest, chiefly from the Rosenheim and Whitcombe Greene collections, and among a number of artists' wax models is Pistrucchi's original model for the design of St. George and the Dragon, presented by Captain Bruce Ingram. A special case has been devoted to post-war coinages, which reveal many interesting breaks with convention.

NEW VEIN HIT AT UNITED PARACALE

Stapler Reports P40 Ore Extends Over 5 Feet

Development work at the United Paracale Mining Company has recently resulted in the opening up of a new ore body on the San Antonio vein. J. B. Stapler, manager of the southern division of Marman and Company, told the Bulletin this week. Mr. Stapler came to Manila some time ago, and planned to return to Paracale this week.

The new ore body is in the 105 drift south on the 100 level. So far the vein has averaged about five feet in width and has assayed approximately P40 a ton. This development, with the recent opening of an ore body near the side life between the United Paracale and the Northern Mining Company property, gives assurance of three major ore bodies on the San Antonio vein.

Developments on the Baluarte vein at United Paracale continue to be most favourable, with the best grades of ore going to the mill coming from Baluarte 200 level stop.

No 2 mill section is on full time operation, treating about 200 tons daily from the Halguing-Bato talus deposit. This ore is surface material, and averages about P12 a ton; it can be mined and milled at about P200 per ton.

Construction work is continuing, and the power house is being expanded to accommodate a fourth Allen diesel engine and a 1,000-cubic foot compressor, which will be installed during July.

Dear Sirs, For nearly 12 months I have been suffering with Sciatica, and could hardly walk with the pains in both legs. THERMOMETER OF SOUND

DEVICE TO MEASURE APPLAUSE

New York, June 28. The "applause thermometer," which proved one of the chief attractions at the Republican and Democratic Conventions, was designed for these great political rallies by the engineers of the Columbia Broadcasting Corporation. Officially described as a "demonstrator," it shows the volume of sound in an auditorium at any given moment.

The chief feature of it is an object six feet high resembling a giant thermometer. It can be seen from every corner of the hall and on its face is a strip of fluctuating red lights, which indicates the strength of the applause or of a speaker's voice in decibels—units of noise.

The sound is picked up by an ordinary microphone mounted in a shallow bowl placed in front of the audience. This bowl is technically known as a parabolic pickup collector and ensures that an equal volume of sound is received from all parts of the auditorium. Minute electrical impulses from the microphone are amplified more than 10,000,000,000 times before they develop sufficient strength to actuate the visible recording devices. These consist of 10 electric bulbs, each of which illuminates a red ground-glass panel in the tube of the thermometer.

ANOTHER R.A.F. AERODROME FOR SCOTLAND

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 30. It is likely that another R.A.F. flying training school will be established in Scotland, writes a correspondent. I understand that the Air Ministry is at present considering the purchase of further land for an aerodrome, and although the site has not yet been definitely decided on it will probably be in the north-east if a suitable location can be found. Officials of the Ministry have inspected and reported on possible sites in Aberdeenshire and Inverness-shire. To meet the needs of the expanding air force another Service aerodrome is to be established on a site yet to be selected, between Newcastle and Berwick.

nates a red ground-glass panel in the tube of the thermometer.

SCARLET LIQUID This, at a distance, looks like a column of scarlet liquid rising in the tube. At the sides of the tube are painted large white figures running in tens from 10 to 100. They represent the decibels in which the sounds are measured.

As the noise increases one panel after another lights up and the column of light mounts higher and higher.

U.S. NAVY AND

16in. GUNS

WAITING ON JAPAN

New York, July 2.
The United States Government has not yet officially adopted a policy contemplating the adoption of 16in. guns in future battleships. Such guns, however, are recommended by the navy's technical experts. Admiral William Standley, Naval Chief of Operations and Acting Secretary of the Navy, states that his technicians consider that such guns are "more advantageous from the American point of view" than the 14in. type.

It will be recalled that the United States assented reluctantly to limit guns to 14in. calibre at the recent London Naval Conference, and only on the condition that Japan and Italy both agreed to such a limitation. Japan has already refused to adhere to the new treaty as a whole, but, it is understood here, might be willing to give assurances regarding gun calibre which would keep that part of the treaty in operation—provided, of course, that Italy also accepts the 14in. limitation.

While American naval officials want 16in. guns for tactical reasons, the United States will not make any move in that direction unless it is possible to do so without violating either the letter or the spirit of the London agreement.

The argument for larger guns goes back to the argument for 35,000-ton battleships and 10,000-ton cruisers which the Americans have advanced for many years. The position that this country takes up is that it needs large ships with a long cruising radius because the United States, unlike Great Britain, has not numerous naval bases throughout the world.

One reason for the question of the size of guns remaining still in abeyance is that the United States has not yet been formally notified of Japan's repudiation of the new naval treaty.

Congress has appropriated funds for the construction of two new battleships, leaving the date to the President's discretion. The United States navy now possesses three ships with 16in. guns and eleven with 14in. It is estimated that it will take five years to complete the programme of building up to the limit authorised in 1930.

59 "WORKERS"

London, July 3.

The Estimates Committee of the House of Commons, which is the M.P.'s watchdog on finance, in a report published to-day disclose the following discoveries:

At the Senior Officers School (Army educational establishments) the average number of students was between 40 and 50. Ten persons were employed on duties of instruction and 59 others for various duties in the building or for waiting on the students.

The cost of the School of Equitation for the training of cavalry and artillery instructors in equitation and skill-at-arms averages £1,151 a student a year. This figure is partly explained by the small numbers at the school, but the Committee say it is clearly excessive.

The cost of providing accommodation for three battalions at Hong Kong Barracks is approximately twice the average cost of providing accommodation for the same number of battalions in this country.

MR. BALDWIN
CHOOSING HIS EPITAPH

"He Made No Speeches—
No, Nor Listened To Them"

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, June 27.

Mr. Baldwin, the Prime Minister, chose an epitaph for himself when he spoke at Lays School (Cambridge) Speech Day yesterday. He said:—

"When my time comes to an end in public life, for whatever years may then be spared to me, I hope my epitaph may be written in a slight paraphrase of some well-known words of Tennyson—'He made no speeches—no, nor listened to them.'"

"We are giving it up," Mr. Baldwin said later. "I shall not be here much longer—naturally, in the ordinary course of events—and it is to you fellows that we are looking."

"You will never know what we are suffering from to-day—the losses of the generation of the war. The men of 40 and 45, who now ought to be coming forward and taking charge of everything in this country, are not there, and therefore many of us who would be glad of easing off and handing over have to listen with what patience we can to those who say—'You poor old men, who wants you?'"
Mr. Baldwin is 68.

VIVA VILLA

Wallace Beery, who rose to fame on the laughter of the world turns dramatic in "Viva Villa!" Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's epic story which comes to the Star Theatre To-day.

For the first time in several years Beery plays a semi-villainous role—that of Pancho Villa, whose name blazed from the world's headlines for a dozen tumultuous years.

But like Marie Dressler, with whom Beery was co-starred in such successes as "Tugboat Annie" and "Min and Bill," Beery comes through with a performance even more powerful than his delineations of comedy characters.

According to psychologists, the reason is simple. "The laugh and the tear are so closely akin," said one eminent thinker, "that only a fine line divides them. It should be simple for a competent actor to cross this line at will."

With Beery playing drama, it will not be astonishing to find Charlie Chaplin blossoming out one of these days in his secret dream as Napoleon!

As Pancho Villa, Beery has one of the most powerful roles of his career in one of the biggest pictures ever made. In the character he brings memories of his performance in his former greatest individual hit—as another tragic figure, Richard the Lion-Hearted.

Villa, whose assassination in 1923 shocked the world, rose from peonage and slavery to become the enemy of the rich, the friend of the poor, the savior of Mexico and one of the great historical figures of the ages. The picture, a fictional version of his life, depicts his triumphs in love and war.

With Beery appears a notable cast, including Leo Carrillo, Fay

FRAUDULENT CONVERSION

Interpreter Charged At Sessions

Wong On, an interpreter employed in the Sanitary Department, was arraigned before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday, on a charge of fraudulent conversion to his own use and benefit $5 entrusted to him by a woman, Yip Shu, in order that he might apply the same to the purchase of a present for or pay the same to Sanitary Inspector William T. Bilson.

The prisoner, who was defended by Mr. Hin-shing Lo, instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall, pleaded not guilty and the following jury was empanelled to hear the case: Messrs. O. B. Payne (Foreman), A. M. Xavier, V. P. Santos, A. J. Brown, Shim Wai Chong, A. Eddy and C. A. Lopez.

Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, conducted the case for the prosecution.

The name of Mr. Pam Shafeng was called for service on the jury. He was absent but was brought into Court later.

CROWN CASE

Presenting his case, Mr. Abbott asked the jury to attend to imagination, a play enacted in Hunsdon. The principal players were to be Sanitary Inspector Bilson, the prisoner and two women, Yip Shu and Wong Mui. The locality was in the immediate neighbourhood of Ma Tau Wat Road, between houses 132 to 220 with the addition of 206A and 206B. The date was May 14 and the time between 8 and 9 a.m.

At the time the houses were being cleansed.

The residents were moving their belongings into the street. Mr. Bilson was supervising the use of the disinfectants. Wong On, the accused, was dressed in European clothing, and he was the only other person in the neighbourhood who was dressed in occidental garments.

Yip Shu, a woman of about 30 was walking along Ma Tau Wat Road, and opposite Bailey's Shipyard she met the defendant who was alone. She asked him to secure permission from Mr. Bilson, to sell rice pudding, and bean curd, for which she would give a present to the Inspector.

Asked when she was going to do this, she replied that she would as soon as she got the where-withal, whereupon the accused told her that if she would get the money immediately, he would buy the present for her, and secure the necessary permission at the same time.

Accordingly, she returned to her house at 10, Gillies St., and met Wong Mui, a fellow-tenant, and asked her for the loan of $5 Wong Mui agreed.

Wong Mui's curiosity was aroused. She followed Yip Shu and saw her hand the money to Wong On. She then returned home.

Continuing, Mr. Abbott said that some time during the last of April, Sanitary Inspector Bilson went to 10, Gillies Street and warned the tenants against using the flat for food-selling.

On June 9 he returned to see if his warning had been heeded, but found that rice pudding and bean curd were being sold without the necessary licence. He also saw food being prepared.

She told the Inspector that she thought that the events of May 14 entitled her to sell without a licence.

Mr. Bilson had never received any money at any time, and took Yip Shu to the Urban Council Office, where she made a statement.

The money had been retained by the accused for his own use, as Mr. Bilson did not receive it.

When Yip Shu returned the borrowed money she told Wong Mui that it was for the accused, but he denied receiving it.

These two women could not possibly concoct such a story as it was full of discrepancies.

The first witness called was Mr. M. I. de Ville, land-surveyor of the P.W.D., who produced plans of the vicinity.

WOMAN'S STORY

Sanitary Insp. Bilson was the next witness. He testified that on the morning of May 14, the accused arrived at the cleansing operations some five minutes after he did. The accused was always within call, as he had to interpret Chinese dialects, except Cantonese, but he was on his own the rest of the time.

On witness's third visit to 10, Gillies Street on June 9, he found Yip Shu selling foodstuffs again, and told her that he had to prosecute her. Being informed of a serious allegation by Yip Shu he took her to the Sanitary Office to his superior, and the next day took her to the Urban Council Office.

Witness had never received any money either directly or indirectly, from Yip Shu. He had told her that the premises would have to be made suitable before a licence would be issued.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Hin-shing Lo, Mr. Bilson said that he was certain that May 14 was the date of the cleansing in that neighbourhood as he had noted it in his diary. The diary was produced in Court.

Being a very poor district of Kowloon, witness never at any time saw anyone there in European dress.

Yip Shu had made an effort to plead with witness remonstrating that her husband was in Canton, and that she had a family to support. She informed him of the events of May 14, implicating the accused.

Yip Shu deposed that she was the principal tenant of 10, Gillies Street. She had stopped making foodstuffs to sell about two months ago.

She saw the accused on May 14, and asked him if he could get permission from Inspector Bilson to sell bean curd and rice pudding. She couldn't state the exact place where she met the accused but she gave him the money with which to buy a present for Mr. Bilson.

In reply to Mr. Lo she said that she spoke to the accused in an ordinary tone in Chinese.

She had fully intended to resume the selling of foodstuffs after the Inspector's warning, as she had to support her family. She was afraid to ask the Inspector for a licence because he was an European.

A WORD OF THANKS

When Mr. Lo asked her why she only wanted to give a gift to Mr. Bilson, and not to the accused, she replied she only gave a word of thanks to the accused.

She further said that she returned the money in instalments of $3 and $2 some three weeks after the loan.

Mr. Abbott: Was the second instalment paid before or after your visit to the Urban Council?

Witness: After.

Wong Mui said that she loaned the money to Yip Shu.

She contradicted Yip Shu's statement about the refunds of the instalments. She said that the last one was repaid after the third visit of Mr. Bilson, which was on June 9.

She said she followed Yip unintentionally, but her curiosity was aroused to such an extent because of the large sum of money that was borrowed. She saw the money being handed to someone who looked like a Chinese dressed in foreign clothes. She was standing near a fountain, about ten or twenty houses away at the time, but she could not distinguish the features of the man.

She found out since the money was returned and that Yip Shu wanted it to lend to the defendant.

When Mr. Hin Shing Lo asked her if it was not her job of breaking stones on the morning of May 14, she replied that she worked at her leisure. She usually left for work between 6 and 7 in the morning, but she was quite sure that she was in on that morning. She had told Yip Shu about the sum of six dollars which had been given her by her son.

She had never seen the defendant before, but she saw his head and not his face quite clearly.

She had never been in a bus in her life, and never saw any European dressed people going into

"FURY"

AT THE KING'S

A new romantic team of unusual appeal is introduced in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Fury," now showing at the King's Theatre. The co-starring leads are Sylvia Sydney and Spencer Tracy, and their acting in many of the difficult scenes of this powerful screen play approaches new heights.

Tracy and Miss Sydney are a typical American couple planning to marry. He is arrested as a suspect in a community where a kidnapping has just occurred, and circumstantial evidence blackens his case. Rumours spread, and troublemakers in the town stir up a demonstration that ends in a furious attack on the prison in which Tracy is being held.

The mob, in a frenzy when baffled in its efforts to drag out the innocent victim, fires the prison. But fate takes a hand and, guided by the vengeful spirit of Tracy and his two younger brothers, relentlessly pursues the men and women responsible for the murder on carefully concocted evidence. Twenty are convicted!

The denouement in the courtroom achieves an emotional tension seldom equalled in motion pictures. It leaves you literally on the edge of your seat up to the fadeout.

An excellent supporting cast is headed by Frank Albertson and George Walcott, as Tracy's brothers; Walter Abel, as the eustocrat attorney; Bruce Cabot, as the leader of the mob, Walter Brennan, as a small-town deputy; Edward Ellis, as the sheriff, and others too numerous to mention in smaller roles.

"Fury" is strong fare, strongly presented.

Bailey's shipyard on that morning, or any other morning.

Sub-Inspector R. Cunningham, the next witness, said that on June 11, at 2.40 p.m. he arrested the defendant at the substation of the Sanitary office, at 2 Pau Cheong Street, and charged him through an interpreter.

This concluded the case for the crown, and as Mr. Hin Shing Lo wanted to give a legal submission, the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, released the jury until 10.00 a.m. this morning.

GIRLS THE CAUSE IN ASSAULT SUMMONS

Charles Gray, manager of the Majestic Dancing Academy, was summoned before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of assaulting Leung Fung-ang, proprietor of the Dragon Motor Car Garage, 34 Village Road.

Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ appeared for the complainant.

Gray admitted smacking the complainant. He said that he had quarters in Village Road for his girls and the complainant had been giving provocation, and his folks being a source of nuisance. The complainant had been warned several times and on this occasion the complainant smiled, and defendant said he lost his temper.

Mr. Russ said that the girls went to the Garage and there the defendant ordered them away which they would not do. The defendant then struck the complainant in the face. The doctor's bill had been $15. Mr. Russ suggested that Gray should try and discipline his girls and not the complainant.

Counsel went on to say that he was not satisfied with the defendant's excuse. The complainant had a genuine grievance, and the defendant's excuse made it appear as though the complainant was also guilty. Mr. Russ asked for an apology, which Gray was not prepared to give.

Hearing of the case was fixed for Monday, August 10.

AMAH'S DEATH VERDICT

Car Driver And Mother Censured

'SUICIDE WHILE OF UNSOUND MIND'

"Had a case of this sort happened under Chinese jurisdiction it would have been considered a case of 'pure murder' was the rider added to the verdict of 'suicide while of unsound mind', which was returned yesterday by the jury, sitting in the adjourned inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the death of Chan Kwai Chi, a female living at No. 45, Village Road, which was held before Mr. W. Schofield as Coroner at the Central Court.

The jury consisted of Messrs. A. M. Larina (foreman), Cheung Wing Shing and Lau Tui-tung. It will be recalled that at the previous hearing friends of the deceased girl gave evidence which went to show that the girl had become infatuated with one Lau Sul, a motor-car driver who after having used all her savings had discarded her.

NEVER SUGGESTED MARRIAGE

Lau Sul in the box stated that after leaving the Hsu family where the deceased was working as an amah, she went to live at No. 45, Village Road. There, he often visited her. She did not live there alone but with a friend named Ah Lal. Witness said that he had never suggested matrimony to the deceased but she had proposed that to him. He was expecting to marry a girl in the country to whom his mother had betrothed him.

At 2 a.m. on June 10, the deceased had gone to his house while he was asleep and had aroused him. For a long time she would not say why she had visited him, but finally stated that she wanted to die. She produced a pair of scissors and tried to stab herself in the throat. Witness snatched at the scissors and in doing so cut himself. While the fingers were being dressed by a foki the girl left.

Witness said that he had never seen the girl in that condition before and could suggest no reason.

The next morning witness's mother noticed the wound and inquiring from one of the foks found out the story. That afternoon when the witness awoke after a sleep, the mother returned from a visit to Kwai Chee (deceased) and said that she had scolded her because she deserved scolding.

That night about 10 p.m. someone came and told witness that Kwai Chee was ill. He went to the house and found that the girl was suffering from what he was told, was poisoning. He procured a car and took the girl to the Government Civil Hospital. That was the last witness saw of the girl.

MOTHER'S OBJECTION

Witness went on to say that he first mentioned the girl to his mother in April with a view to matrimony. The mother objected and did not approve of his marrying that sort of a girl saying that she had already arranged a marriage for him.

The deceased often went to the garage where she knew many people. She had never mentioned suicide before. He had loaned her $35 at the end of last year to tide her over the New Year. He did not know that she had any savings. Witness denied having investigated her leaving the Hsu family, or that he rented a cubicle for her in Village Road.

Witness admitted going to Canton with deceased to see the procession. They passed the night there as they could find no room on the night boat back to Hong Kong. This night was spent in walking the streets.

Witness further denied having received deceased's savings. He told her in March that he would have no more to do with her because of his contracted marriage in the country.

In answer to questions put by Inspector A. E. Carey, witness said that it did not occur to him to take the girl to the Sanatorium, which was but a few hundred yards away. Someone suggested the Government Civil Hospital and he had taken her there. None of the furniture at the deceased girl's house belonged to him. When visiting the girl he left her at 11 p.m. the latest.

Yeung Fung, mother of Lau Sul, next gave evidence and said that she was being supported by her

UNREGISTERED MUI-TSAI

Owner Before Court

ASSAULT ALLEGED

A fine of $100 was imposed by Mr. W. Schofield on Lai Yuen, 51, a married woman, residing at No. 73, Wyndham Street, who was charged with keeping an unregistered mui tsai, named Yam Sim, aged 22.

Inspector L. W. Fraser was for the prosecution.

Mr. S. Ng Quian appeared for the defendant and stated that he pleaded guilty to a technical offence. Defendant lived at Fat Shan and came to Hong Kong occasionally to visit her son in school. On this occasion she came to Hong Kong on the girl's request, as she wanted to find employment here so defendant brought the girl with her. On April 2, the girl left the house and defendant heard that she had gone back to Fat Shan with a man.

On June 4 the girl was seen by the defendant and her daughter in Aberdeen Street. They tried to enter the house to enquire into her welfare but were refused admittance. Fearing action a report was made to the S.C.A.

Inspector Fraser said that the girl had been sold at the age of 4 for $40. She did household work but received no wages. On April 2 the girl ran away alleging that she had been assaulted with firewood. On June 4 the defendant and her daughter saw the girl and wanted her to return. The matter was then reported.

Defendant was fined $100.

FORGED MONTHLY TRAM TICKET ALLEGED

CLERK ON $500 BAIL

Yip Kay, 36, a clerk, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday charged with (a) failing to pay the legal fare of 10 cents while travelling on a tramcar, (b) on December 1, with intent to defraud, did forge a certain document purporting to be a tramway monthly ticket, (c) forging a document on July 1, purporting to be a monthly ticket, and (d) uttering the forged document on July 20.

Defendant pleaded guilty to (a) and not guilty to the others.

Mr. W. A. Mackinlay was for the Tramway Company.

The case was remanded for one week. Bail being allowed at $500.

two sons. She had contracted the marriage for her son without telling him because in Chinese custom it was not necessary. Witness then went on to corroborate the story of Lau Sul.

Inspector A. E. Carey gave evidence of the search of the cubicle and the finding of a piece of paper which smelled strongly of opium being found on the floor.

Summing up Mr. Schofield said that no one was criminally responsible for the girl's death. The girl's friends had based their evidence on hearsay. Lau had denied all that. Assuming that Lau promised marriage, took her money and lived with the girl, that was a civil case for damages. His Worship could not believe that Lau's mother was the sole determining factor which led the girl to kill herself. Her mind had already been made up.

It was a love-suicide, said Mr. Schofield. It was possible that she gave some of her money to Lau.

The jury then retired for a short space of time and returned the verdict of "suicide while of unsound mind. We would ask Your Worship to censure severely the car driver and the mother as Your Worship thinks fit. We wish to point out that had a case of this sort happened under the Chinese jurisdiction it would be considered a pure case of murder".

Mr. Schofield then said that had the girl taken action against either Lau or the mother, she might have got extremely heavy penalties. It had not been proved that she had handed all her money over to Lau, but had she been alive she might have been able to do so.

His Worship thought the behaviour of both Lau and his mother had been morally despicable.

WELDED BARS INSTEAD OF BEAMS

Wrong Materials Used In Construction

CONTRACTOR FINED

"In this case I am satisfied that it is largely a question of lack of supervision rather than an intentional fault by the contractor. I must, however, impose a fine sufficiently large to see that the supervision will take place earlier than the operations" commented Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday when he imposed a fine of $250 on the manager of the Sang Tai building contractors, No. 108 Second Street, on a summons of making use of materials in beams on the ground floor of a new school being erected at K.L.L. 3394 at Hau Pui Loong on July 3, contrary to the Building Ordinance, 1935. The materials alleged to have been used were welded bars.

Mr. W. A. Mackinlay, appeared for the defendant, and pleaded guilty to an extremely technical offence.

Mr. T. W. Carr, of the Public Works Department, said that he was instructed to say the Building Authority looked on the case in a serious light. Welded bars, he said, were not allowed by the London County Ordinances under which the local architects worked. Schedule B of the local Building Ordinances made specific references to the L.C.C. ruling.

NOT INSPECTED

In mitigation of his client, Mr. Mackinlay said that the facts of the case were that his clients were contractors for a new building. The iron work, as usual, was supplied through a sub-contractor.

His clients specifically understood that no welded bars could be used. It was the practice for the sub-contractor to put up the iron work and this was subsequently inspected by Sang Tai and the architect. When the beam on the ground floor was in the process of construction the iron frame had not yet been completed and accordingly had not been inspected by his clients or the architect.

"Unfortunately, at least for my client, Mr. Carr got there first," said Mr. Mackinlay, "and saw the fault."

Had the work been inspected by the defendant, he added, at that particular period it would not have been allowed an so far as he understood there was no suggestion that his clients would have allowed it.

"In the circumstances when it is considered that my client has a record of thirty years as a builder without a previous conviction of this nature I submit that the case is so highly technical that your Worship is fully justified to discharge my client with a caution or at the utmost impose a nominal fine," concluded Counsel.

SERIOUS OFFENCE

Mr. Carr stated that on the afternoon in question he inspected the works and found a lot of the beam reinforcement was already fixed and ready but some were not complete. On inspection he found a bar which was an excellent piece

TROUSERS THEFT

Sentence of three weeks' hard labour was imposed by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday on Chan Tat, 28, unemployed, for stealing three pairs of female trousers from the third floor verandah of No. 298 Shanghai Street.

Inspector R. Shannon: About 5.30 yesterday morning the complainant, Li Sze, heard a noise in the verandah. She went out in the verandah and saw that three pairs of trousers which she had left hanging there were missing. She ran up to the roof and saw the defendant wearing one pair of the trousers and carrying the other two in his hands. She caught hold of him and shouted. Some of her fellow-tenants came to her assistance. They blew police whistles and district watchman 79 came on the scene and the defendant was handed over to him. There is no record against the defendant.

MORE HEROIN PILLS

Mak Fung, 38, unemployed, and a widow, named Wong Sau-ying, aged 37, appeared before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday charged with the possession of a quantity of heroin pills at 11, Chi Wo Street, second floor. Revenue Officer P. J. O'Neill stated he had instructions from his Department to apply for a week's remand. He did not know the exact number of pills. The defendants were accordingly remanded for a week on bail of $2,500 each.

MURDER CASE

Charged with the murder of a 49-year-old gardener in a hut on the hillside at Hau Pui Loong, Yung Shing, 33, blacksmith, and Yung Ming, 24, gardener, made another formal appearance before Mr. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday and were remanded for another week, on the application of the police.

COUNTERFEIT COINS

Chan Mui, 36, married woman, was charged with the possession of 269 counterfeit five-cent pieces at 32, New Market Street, appeared before Mr. Burgess at the Central Court yesterday.

Det.-Sergeant B. Byron appeared for the Police and applied for a remand of 48 hours for enquiries.

of workmanship so that one had to inspect it very closely to see that it was welded. On making this discovery he telephoned the P.W.D. Office and they sent Mr. Cuthbertson. When the latter arrived they found a further amount of welded bars on the job. A sample was taken which was submitted for a test by Professor F. A. Redmond, of the Hong Kong University. The latter's report showed that the welded material was very weak. He had been instructed to say that the P.W.D. did not consider this was a trivial offence. There was no knowing that some of the bars would have been overlooked after the final inspection. Defendant was warned as soon as these deficiencies were found and they had stated that they were satisfied all welded bars had been removed from the site.

In imposing the fine stated above, the Magistrate remarked that if any of these bars had been overlooked it might have seriously jeopardised the construction of the building.

PO PUI TICKETS

Found in possession of 259 Macao Po Pui lottery tickets Wong Lok, 48, unemployed was fined $50 or 6 weeks' imprisonment by Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday. Sergeant Hutchinson of the Water Police stated that the accused was seen to alight from a No. 7 Bus outside the Peninsula Hotel. When searched the tickets were found varying in value from 20 cents to five dollars.

TRESPASSER

For trespassing in Whitfield Barracks, an unemployed Chinese Lai Shek Chuen, aged 60 years, was fined $1, or in default seven days' imprisonment at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday. Subedar Amrick Singh appeared as complainant. Sergeant Hutchinson was for the prosecution.

DOG ON BEACH

Lt. Sheen, of the Royal Ulster Rifles, was fined $5 when he appeared before Mr. Burgess at the Central Court yesterday summoned for allowing his dog abroad on the Repulse Bay beach without a muzzle.

Defendant admitted the charge. Sergeant Dall was for the prosecution.

DOG SLIPPED OUT

Mr. M. I. de Ville, living at No. 285, the Peak, was also fined $5 when he appeared before Mr. Burgess at the Central Court yesterday summoned for allowing his dog abroad on Mt. Kellet Road on July 12 without a muzzle.

Defendant said that the dog slipped out that morning. Sub-Inspector McEwen was for the Police.

DANGEROUS QUARTER

A fine of $5 was passed on Lok Wing, summoned for allowing his dog in Queen's Road Central without a muzzle on July 14, when he appeared before Mr. Burgess at the Central Court yesterday.

Mr. Burgess remarked that that was a dangerous quarter to let the dog about without a muzzle.

STOLE ARMS FROM POLICE STATION

Charged with (a) the larceny of a revolver, six rounds of ammunition and a holster from the Taitam Police Sub-Station on July 18, and (b) the unlawful possession of arms on July 19, Ma Ting, unemployed appeared before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday.

Inspector A. E. Carey applied for one week's remand, the case possibly being one for committal.

ROBBERY IN CHINESE TERRITORY

Chau Fat, 40, unemployed, appeared on remand before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Court yesterday. Defendant was charged with committing a robbery in Sie Min Street, Sin Kwang City, Kwangtung on July 6.

At the previous hearing the case was stated to be one for extradition. Yesterday Mr. Murphy, C.D.I. said that the extradition proceedings were being waived as the defendant had consented to go back to the country on his own account.

CIVIL SERVICE LEVY

TENTS AT REPULSE BAY

"Segregation Unnecessary"
—HON. MR. M. K. LO

REPLY BY GOVERNMENT

A Bill to regulate certain pleasure grounds, bathing places and places of public resort, has become law. It passed its third reading at the meeting of the Legislative Council held yesterday afternoon.

The Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, in the course of his speech, said he was glad that Government had decided not to ban tents at Repulse Bay and he knew that the Government announcement in this regard was received with pleasure and a sense of relief by the public. But he still submitted that it was unnecessary to mark out any special areas and segregate tents therein.

Replying for the Government, the Hon. Attorney General said that it was estimated that the area marked out for tents will permit of the erection of a dozen tents, or two rows of a dozen each. Further areas could be marked out if the number of tents increased. He saw no reason under present conditions for limiting the height of the tents or for giving them the individual isolation which the Hon. Mr. Lo's proposals involved.

SPECIAL AREA ALLOCATED

The Attorney General, moving the second reading of the Bill, said: Sir, since the first reading of this Bill your Government has reconsidered its decision to ban private tents from Repulse Bay beach and has decided instead to allocate an area 150 feet in length at the centre of the beach near the central stream and opposite matsheds numbers 27 to 32.

The Colonial Secretary seconded.

HON. MR. M. K. LO

Your Excellency:

When this Bill reaches the Committee Stage I propose to move the delegation of Regulation 2 (3) and (4) or the Regulations governing bathing places. But as my reasons for so doing involve a question of principle rather than a mere detail of the Bill, I feel that I should submit my reasons now. The principle involved is as to what the Legislature should do in regard to the conflicting claims and rights of bathing-shed owners and other members of the general public who desire to erect tents for their own use and convenience.

I am, sure, Sir, that you desire to give a fair deal, both to the bathing-shed owners and to those who desire to use tents in connection with their bathing, and the only question is—What is a fair deal?

I concede at once that Government, having granted permits to bathing-shed holders for maintaining bathing-sheds in consideration of an annual fee, should do nothing in derogation of its own grant. But as tents, to a greater or less extent, have been in use for a long time, bathing-shed holders must be presumed to hold their bathing-sheds with the knowledge of the probability, or even certainty of tents being erected near such sheds.

FALSE VIEW

The number of bathing-shed owners in relation to the number of potential bathers in the Colony must be infinitesimally small. The fact that bathing-sheds are on yearly permits may well give a false view as to the precariousness of their holding, with its equally misleading implication that members of the general public may, and do, get their turns of being bathing-shed owners. In point of fact we know that bathing-sheds are held more or less in mortmain. Bathing-shed proprietors, either original owners or assignees from original owners, must of necessity belong to a class which can afford the capital outlay in the construction of the shed and the annual rent payable to Government—both fairly expensive items. No one begrudges the shed owners their sheds, or the amenities which such structures afford. But I submit that they are not the only persons entitled to consideration.

On the July 1, which was a Bank Holiday, I took the trouble to visit Repulse Bay and to seek the views of various shed owners. Before setting out such views I may mention that I did not see a single tent in that long stretch of beach which fronts the Lido. I do not know whether the Lido possesses all the foreshore rights, and I desire respectfully to be enlightened on this point. But I noticed that there is a stretch of beach of at least 50 yards between the stream marking what I presume to be the Lido property, and the first bathing-shed, on which no sheds have been built at all, and I should imagine that this portion could accommodate many tents.

I am happy, Sir, to report to this Council that the views of the shed owners whom I consulted were unanimous and emphatic: that they do not wish in any way to interfere unduly with the simple and innocent pleasure of tent users and that, provided certain restrictions, which I myself suggested, were to be imposed, they would welcome the presence of tents in their midst, which has the effect of adding to the gaiety and happy atmosphere of the place.

THE RESTRICTIONS

The restrictions which I suggested relate to the distance between the sheds and the tents, the distance between the tents themselves and the heights of the tents, and are based more or less on the actual conditions at Repulse Bay as I found them that afternoon. I have embodied these restrictions in a suggested Regulation, which is to take the place of Regulation 2 (3), for which I will move in Committee.

I am glad, Sir, that Government has decided not to ban tents at Repulse Bay, and I know that the Government announcement in this regard was received with pleasure and a sense of relief by the public. But I still submit that, provided tents are subject to such restrictions as I have indicated, it is unnecessary to mark out any special areas and segregate tents therein as if they were unclean things.

I therefore respectfully commend my amendment to this Council, when it is put forward in the Committee Stage, as one which does fairly harmonise and reconcile the conflicting claims of the bathing-shed and tent owners.

2 (3). Tents, awnings or similar structures not exceeding 7 feet in height, in private ownership and not intended to be let, and not in fact let, for hire, may be erected and maintained without permit for periods not exceeding 12 hours in any one day on any beach; provided that no such structure shall be erected within 30 feet of another such structure, or within 60 feet in front of any bathing-shed held under a permit issued by the Director of Public Works or the appropriate District Officer.

GOVERNMENT REPLY

Replying the Attorney General said:

Sir, I am glad to hear that the honourable and learned member welcomes the Government's decision not to ban private tents at Repulse Bay. The Government's proposal is to allocate an area for the erection of these tents near the central stream which separates the matshed area from the Lido Area. It was one of the conditions of sale of Lot C of the Lido property, that the Lessee should have the right of free and uninterrupted access to the sea cover-

High Tribute
Paid

AT COUNCILS MEETING

TO HON. SIR SHOU SON CHOW

High tribute to the services rendered by the Hon. Sir Shou-son Chow to the public in general and the legislature of the Colony since 1921, was paid by His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, addressing members at the meeting of the Legislative Council held yesterday afternoon prior to the commencement of the business of the day.

Sir Andrew said:

On December 2, 1921, there was appointed to this Council a Chinese gentleman who had already done good public service on Hong Kong's District Watch Committee and its Sanitary Board; a man who was destined to become a dominant personality in this Chamber, and a pillar of the Colonial Administration. His name was Mr. Chow Shou Son, and he served as a member of the Legislature for ten years, receiving the honour of Knighthood in 1928, in which year he was also appointed to be the first Chinese member of our Executive Council. A fortnight ago to-day Sir Shou Son Chow left these precincts for the last time as a Councillor in one spelling of that word, but with the generous promise that we might still rely and call upon him as a councillor in the other spelling. I shall not forget that promise. He left moreover with the seal of Royal gratitude set upon all that he has done for the Government and people of Hong Kong on either Council, for His Majesty the King has been graciously pleased to approve the retention by him of the title 'Honourable' within this Colony. All of us here this afternoon will, I know, desire to congratulate him on that finely deserved honour, to wish him prolonged health and happiness in which to enjoy it, and to place on official record in the local Hansard an expression of our deep gratitude and admiration for his signal public service. With your permission, gentlemen, I will ask the Clerk of Council to forward a copy of these proceedings to Sir Shou Son Chow. (Applause).

UNOFFICIAL'S ASSOCIATION

The Hon. Mr. J. J. Paterson, speaking on behalf of the Unofficial members, remarked how much they regretted the departure of Sir Shou Son Chow from the Council. Regret he said, was rather a selfish way to look on it for Sir Shou Son Chow had done a considerable amount of good work for the welfare of the Colony with his wide experience which the Colony had benefited. He wished Sir Shou Son Chow every happiness and good health in the leisure which he had so richly earned. (Applause).

The Hon. Dr. S. W. Ts'o, Sir, as senior Chinese unofficial member of the Council I wish to associate myself with the remarks made by my honourable friend. Sir Shou Son Chow's vast experience in China has brought to bear in his services to the benefit of the Chinese community. (Applause).

ing the area running immediately parallel to the frontage of the Lot for the purpose of the use of that Lot as a public bathing pavilion and pleasure resort, but save as aforesaid the Lessee has acquired no rights whatever over the foreshore and sea bed in front of the said Lot.

It is estimated that the area marked out for tents will permit of the erection of a row of a dozen tents or two rows of a dozen each. Further areas can be marked out if the number of tents increases. I submit, Sir, that the

ARBITRARY RATE OF EXCHANGE REDUCED

Further Concession To Sterling Paid Officers

SCHEME APPROVED BY SECRETARY OF STATE

Moving a resolution dealing with the rate of exchange at which sterling salaries for the third quarter of 1936 are to be paid, the Hon. Mr. Edwin Taylor (Colonial Treasurer) at the Legislative Council meeting yesterday announced that it was now proposed to reduce the arbitrary rate of exchange by another three farthings to 1s. 4½d.

The Colonial Treasurer said:

Your Excellency:—The first resolution standing in my name deals with the rate of exchange at which sterling salaries for the 3rd quarter of 1936 are to be paid. For the first quarter salaries were paid at 1s/6d, for the second quarter at 1s/5½d and the proposal now is to reduce the arbitrary rate of exchange by another 3d to 1s/4½d. The Secretary of State has approved and I now move Resolved, pursuant to section 2 (4) of the Hong Kong Government Service (Levy on Salaries) Ordinance, 1936, that after deduction of the levy, if any, and of the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Contribution, if any, or of either, the remainder of the salaries of all public officers in the Hong Kong Government Service, which are expressed in terms of sterling, whatever their amount, shall be converted at the rate of one shilling and fourpence half-penny to the dollar for the months of July, August and September, 1936.

FURTHER CONCESSION

The Colonial Treasurer: The next resolution is self explanatory. Council will remember that a similar concession was made in 1931 to officers who had one or two dependents in a sterling or gold standard country when salaries were paid half at 1s/6d and half at current rate. It is a fact that the imposition at short notice of arbitrary rates of exchange of 1s/6d, 1s/5½d and 1s/4½d for the first three quarters of the year has pressed somewhat harshly on officers having to remit funds as they were for the most part unable to adjust their expenditure immediately and have been obliged to buy sterling at the Bank's selling rate, which to-day is 1s/3½d. It is, therefore, thought reasonable that some concession should be made to officers in this position. The scheme has been approved by the Secretary of State and has been accepted by members of the Finance Committee. Its adoption will reduce by $25,000 the total savings under the Levy on Salaries Ordinance.

I now move Resolved pursuant to section 6 of the Hong Kong Government Service (Levy on Salaries) Ordinance, 1936, that with effect from the 1st day of January, 1936, until the 30th day of September, 1936, both days included, that one sixth of the salary, if expressed in terms of sterling, of every officer of the Hong Kong Government Service, who shall have a wife or a child under the age of twenty-one years dependent on him and resident in a sterling or gold standard country, shall be exempt (after deduction of the levy, if any, and of the Widows and Orphans' Pension Contribution, if any, or of either) from the operation of the special conversion rate provided for in section 2 (4) of the said Ordinance during the period in which such wife or child is so resident.

And resolved further that in the case of such an officer, who has two or more such dependents so resident as aforesaid, the exemption (after the said deductions, if any) shall extend to one third of the salary.

The Colonial Secretary seconded and the resolutions were passed.

NO FREE PETROL FOR CIVIL SERVANTS

Questions asked by the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo concerning Chek Sha beach, situated midway between Ban Sin Hok and Junk Bay; duty-free petrol to civil servants; and opium divans in the Colony, were replied to by the Colonial Secretary (Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North) at the Legislative Council meeting held yesterday.

Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo asked:

With reference to the bathing beach known as Chek Sha, situated midway between Ban Sin Hok and Mui Sek at Junk Bay.

Is Government aware:

(a) That it is a popular bathing beach frequently resorted to by launch picnic parties?

(b) That a fair sized cesspool was recently constructed and used within approximately 200 yards of highwater mark, and

(c) That two sheds were built and inhabited within approximately 50 yards of the cesspool?

Will Government consider the question of having the cesspool and matsheds removed to some other place not adjacent to popular bathing beaches, so that the sea may not be polluted thereby?

The Colonial Secretary replied: 1. (I) (a) It is understood that this is a small stony beach not particularly adapted to use by bathers, but that motor boats conveying bathers frequently anchor off the shore.

(b) Yes.

(c) Yes.

(II) The cesspool and matsheds are necessary for the cultivation of private agricultural land adjoining the beach. I am informed that the cesspool does not drain on to the beach, and therefore does not pollute the sea. The cultivator might be required to remove the cesspool and the matsheds to within the boundary of his adjacent land but this would not improve the bathing amenities of the beach. In the circumstances Government does not propose to take any action.

FREE PETROL

Hon. Mr. Lo:

Will Government be good enough to furnish to this Council full information as to the supply from any Government depot or otherwise of duty-free petrol to civil servants?

(a) setting out the terms and conditions and restrictions (if any) under which such supply is given; and

(b) setting out the amount of duty-free petrol so supplied during the years 1934, 1935, and the first six months of 1936.

Colonial Secretary:

Government does not supply, nor has it ever supplied duty free petrol to civil servants. Civil servants may obtain petrol for their personal use from Government Stores on payment of the contract price together with the duty.

OPIMUM DIVANS

Hon. Mr. Lo:

Is Government aware that in a recent criminal proceeding it was proved in evidence by Crown witnesses that there were no less than 800 opium divans in the Colony.

BARCELONA IN REBEL HANDS

Police And Auxiliaries Dispersed

CHANGE WELCOMED BY POPULATION

End Of Three Days' Reign Of Terror

(Hong Kong Daily Press' Special)

Paris, July 22. The Spanish insurgents recaptured Barcelona early on Wednesday morning according to despatches here, which add that severe street fighting between the police, who were supported by armed workers, and the civilians who sided with the rebels, lasted throughout the night.

When the insurgent troops entered the city at dawn they rapidly succeeded in dispersing the police and their auxiliaries and could find no trace of the Communist Executive Committee which had been installed in the course of the last few days. The Committee had apparently taken to their heels.

BATTLE FOR CAPITAL

The despatches further state that the recapture of Barcelona was welcomed by a large part of the population as it implies an end to the three days' reign of terror, the brunt of which was directed against all persons suspected of Fascist leanings.

The insurrection continues to progress throughout the whole of Northern Spain where the provinces are said to be now in the hands of the insurgents, whilst it is asserted that the "iron ring" around Madrid is being drawn continuously closer.

Transocean News Service.

CONVERGING ON MADRID

Paris, July 22. News from Spain continues to arrive in the most contradicting manner. Each side claims to have the situation well in hand. One thing only appears certain, namely that fighting is increasing in violence from day to day. That the Madrid Government forces have failed to decide the issue definitely for the Government is indicated by the fact that reports from all sides speak of a great battle now raging for the possession of the capital.

The reports have it that the insurgent forces are marching on Madrid from various sides, while the Government forces are offering desperate resistance. The Government is preparing strong defensive positions in the mountain range of the Sierra de Guadarrama, about 50 kilometres north of the capital. Trenches, barbed wire entanglements, carefully camouflaged artillery and machine gun positions, it is reported, are being set up.

CLOSE TO CITY

The Government's measures seem, however, to meet with little success, as the latest reports have it that the insurgents' vanguards have already reached points in close proximity of the capital. Thus some detachments of the rebel forces are said to have captured Alcala de Henares, some 25 kilometres west of Madrid, while another of their columns appears to have reached el Prado, which is only 10 kilometres from the capital. Realising the extreme seriousness of the situation, the Government has sent heavy detachments of infantry, artillery and some plane squadrons to these points.

While still heavy fighting is going on, the Government issued an official communique on Tuesday, stating that the loyal troops have repulsed the insurgents and inflicted heavy losses on them.

The capture of the fashionable seaside resort of San Sebastian is confirmed by several reports which state that the resort was taken by the rebels after a brief fight in which the total losses on both sides were about 100.

EARLIER CABLE NEWS

Lisbon, July 21. The wireless stations in possession of the insurrectionists report unanimously that the advance of General Mola on to Madrid is proceeding, and that at the same time rebel regiments from Valladolid, Saragossa, and Alicante are converging on Madrid.

CONTRADICTING REPORTS

Paris, July 21. It is definitely announced by the Madrid Government that the situation in Galicia in northwest Spain is completely normal and the army has remained loyal to the Government. The moral and material situation in the provinces of the rebels is very seriously weakened. There is, furthermore, no truth in the report that the situation in Sebastian gives cause for uneasiness.

In a flat contradiction to this report the French News Agency in Bayonne reports that San Sebastian was taken by the rebels. General Molas who is advancing from Pamplona, is expected to arrive at any moment in San Sebastian.

ATTACKING COLUMNS

Madrid, July 21. For the purpose of putting down the rebellion in Valladolid, Burgos and Saragossa, the Spanish military forces will be divided into five main columns, consisting of the loyal regular troops, the workers militia, the police, the civil guard and the assaults guard.

Everything was quiet in Madrid on Tuesday. Trams were again running and a number of shops open. The National Flag was flying from all public buildings. The Anarcho-Syndicalists published a proclamation denying the rumours that they were joining the Fascists, pointing out that conclusive evidence to the contrary was given.

SAILORS MUTINY

On board the "Jaime I" which is with the fleetship "Espana" the largest in the Spanish Navy, the sailors refused to obey the officers who wanted to side with the rebels, and in the ensuing fight between the officers and sailors the Commander and one Lieutenant were killed and many officers seriously wounded.

A decree in the Gazette appoints Lieutenant Prado to be Commander-in-Chief of the Navy, and from the latter a telegram has been received declaring loyalty to the new chief.

REBELS OUSTED

Madrid, July 21. An official announcement was made by the Government that loyal troops supported by the People's Front Militia marched into Alcala de Henares and after hard fighting had defeated the insurrectionists who had made the church of Santa Maria, the Cathedral and the town hall their chief strongholds.

GENERAL KILLED

Lisbon, July 21. A message broadcast from Sevilla emphatically denies that the insurgents have capitulated, declaring on the contrary that their position is improving.

General Sanjurjo is reported to have been killed in an airplane crash in Sevilla, when he was on his way to put himself at the head of the insurgents.

REBELS PROGRESS

London, July 22. As far as the latest news, from many quarters, can be trusted the Spanish rebels are making notable progress. Refugees arriving at Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish border,

M. Leon Blum, French Premier, is visiting London to-day for the three-power conference.

ARMY OFFICERS ARRESTED

Sympathisers With Insurgents

TEN PROVINCES HELD

Of forty five Spanish provinces, ten are either held or partly occupied by rebels, while they have a footing on two others.

The Government is energetically arming civilian supporters among the working classes and organising brigades of militia which have been despatched to the south to meet the rebels.

Over a thousand army officers suspected to be in sympathy with the rebels have been arrested.

The Barcelona wireless station has summoned the general commanding the Fifth Army Brigade to surrender, threatening aerial bombardment of that part of the town in which the rebels are still resisting.

Reuter's Bulletin Service.

CAMPAIGN OF LIES

Seville, July 22. General Delano, commanding the rebel forces in Seville, in a broadcast message stated that a "campaign of lies" is being produced by the Spanish Government. He declared that the Government warships at Tangiers are without provisions as their supplies were destroyed by rebel aircraft.

Reuter's Bulletin Service.

declare the provinces of Saragossa, Navarre, Jaca, Vittoria, Burgos, Valladolid and Pontevedra are in the hand of the rebels. The frontier guards near Hendaye, at Behic and Dantharia have gone over to the rebel army.

The rebels control San Sebastian, where the wireless station, the last loyal stronghold, is being besieged.

From Tangier comes the report that rebel headquarters at Ceuta has warned neutral shipping to leave Tangier harbour as the rebels plan to attack the Government warship there from the air. These warships are allegedly marooned owing to lack of fuel and provisions.

Nevertheless, the British destroyer "Whitehall" is remaining in Tangier harbour.

SAN SEBASTIAN TAKEN

Bayonne, July 21. News has reached the French frontier that the Spanish rebel forces occupied San Sebastian at 6 o'clock this afternoon, following a fierce engagement with Carabiniers, who lost twenty-four killed in the fight.

Several motor cars filled with British tourists are evacuating San Sebastian, but it is believed that some British subjects remain.

Reuter.

ADVANCE ON BILBAO

Hendaye, July 21. It is reported that rebel troops, after capturing San Sebastian, are now advancing on Bilbao. British tourists arriving here relate that San Sebastian was machine-gunned from the air this morning.

MADRID SITUATION

Madrid, July 21. After fierce fighting, lasting practically the whole of yesterday, the Government fully controls the situation here. Mutinous troops have surrendered and their leaders have been imprisoned.

The bodies of seventeen officers who committed suicide when they found their plot had failed, were discovered when their barracks was taken.

British Navy Busy On Rescue

SHIP STRUCK BY BOMB FRAGMENTS

London, July 22. The situation in Spain continues to be extremely tense, although conflicting reports leave the actual position still very obscure. Insurgents evidently control several important centres in various parts of the country.

The latest reliable reports indicate that Madrid is quiet, although rebel forces are said to be converging on the capital.

British naval forces are busily engaged in the rescue of stranded nationals. H.M.S. Shamrock took off twenty-five British subjects and Americans from Malaga which, although now quiet, has suffered severely from fire.

The submarine flotilla leader Douglas and three more destroyers left Malta for Spanish waters to-day and many other warships are in the neighbourhood of Spanish ports, where there are British visitors.

It is stated that a British merchant ship in the Straits of Gibraltar was struck to-day by fragments of bombs from a Spanish aeroplane, although there appears at the moment to be uncertainty as to which of the rebel Spanish forces the machine belonged.

TIN CONTROL SCHEME

Delegates Leaving Bangkok

Bangkok, July 22. The delegates of the International Tin Committee, Messrs. Louringer and Vanden Broek, who have been negotiating with the Siam authorities regarding Siam's participation in the renewed restriction scheme after the end of the year, will leave for Singapore and Batavia respectively on Sunday in order to consult their respective Governments.

This is in accordance with schedule and does not indicate any hitch in the negotiations as no definite decision can be expected before the meeting of the Siamese People's Assembly in August.

The Government has taken over five leading rightist newspapers and intends to amalgamate them. The red flag now flies over one.

The Government reportedly controls the situation in most of the provincial centres, but an improvised army of 5,000 rebels, chiefly peasants and workmen, equipped with rifles, is marching on Saragossa.

HONG KONG IN THE COMMONS

Tax On Foreign Films Urged

London, July 22.

Four questions were asked in the House of Commons to-day concerning the heavy proportion of foreign films exhibited in Hong Kong. Mr. Herbert Williams urged a special registration tax on foreign films analogous to the tax on motor cars and Mr. A. C. Moreing suggested compulsory exhibition of 20 per cent. of British films at each performance.

The Secretary of State for Colonies, Mr. W. G. Ormsby-Gore replied that he was fully alive to the consideration prompting the questions, but for economic reasons the present was not the moment for further restriction of the film enterprise in Hong Kong.

The Minister stated, however, that the subject was engaging his attention.

ROYAL DEFENCE CORPS

Replacement By Defence Companies

London, July 21.

Mr. A. Duff-Cooper, Secretary of State for War, informed the House of Commons to-day that the Royal Defence Corps, the formation of which was arranged in 1935, will be replaced by National Defence Companies attached to Territorial Army infantry regiments.

Enrolment will start on September 1 and will be open to ex-Servicemen between the ages of 40 and 60.

The duties of these units would be to protect important points in Britain when war threatened or was declared, but the members would not be called up until then. Neither would they be called up on account of civil disturbances.

A total of approximately 8,450 officers and men would be required, and these would be distributed among various counties.

Gutierrez Gets Through

EX-CHAMPION BEATS SHEPHERD

L. A. Gutierrez, winner of the Open Championship title in 1932, yesterday defeated J. Shepherd in the Open Championship Competition at the Kowloon Docks Recreation Club green, by 21 shots 15, in a game which was featured by steady bowling by the winner and a last minute yet unavailing effort by the loser.

By virtue of his victory yesterday, Gutierrez has entered the semi-final round, which is composed of the following players:

A. W. Grimmer (C.S.C.C.) winner, 1934.

L. A. Gutierrez (C. de R.) winner, 1932.

H. A. Alves (C. de R.) finalist, 1935.

A. E. Coates (C.C.C.)

In yesterday's game, which terminated at the 18th head, Gutierrez led his opponent by twelve shots at the 15th head, the score being 20-8. He required only one shot for the game and the right to enter the semi-final round, but Shepherd staged a last-minute recovery and for two further heads staved off defeat.</

HOUSING FEES

The Attorney General moved that the amendment to the by-laws made by the Urban Council under section 3 of the Public Health (Animals and Birds) Ordinance, 1935, on May 28, 1935, be approved.

The Attorney General: The fees charged to house pigs, cattle, sheep and goats are raised in the case of cattle from 50 to 60 cents, pigs 10 cents to 40 cents, and sheep and goats 10 cents to 35 cents. Apparently the Urban Council considers that the higher fees are justified by present conditions.

The Colonial Secretary seconded and the motion was carried.

The Attorney General moved the first reading of a Bill to amend the Crown Rights (Re-entry) Ordinance, 1870. The Colonial Secretary seconded and the Bill was read a first time.

In moving the reading of a Bill to amend the law relating to the instruments which may be used in flogging or whipping, the Attorney General explained that it had been decided to dispense with the birch which was in use in England and in Hong Kong but not in other Far Eastern countries. The birch came from England and in other cases they became wet and mouldy.

The Colonial Secretary seconded. The Colonial Treasurer moved the second reading of a Bill to authorize the appropriation of a supplementary sum of $122,771.15 to defray charges of the year, 1935. The Colonial Secretary seconded and the Bill was read a third time and passed.

The Attorney General then moved the second reading of a Bill to amend the Factories and Workshops Ordinance, 1932, and a Bill to amend the Jury Ordinance, 1887. The Colonial Secretary seconded and both Bills were then read a third time and passed there being no amendments in Committee.

REPULSE BAY TENTS

Government's proposals which fit in with the regulations as they stand are preferable to those contained in the regulation which the Honourable and learned member intends to move in Committee. His proposals, as I understand them, would provide no special area but would limit the height of tents to seven feet and would segregate each tent so that it could not be erected within thirty feet of another tent or within sixty feet of a match. I see no reason under present conditions for limiting the height of the tents or for giving them the individual isolation which his proposals involve.

GOVERNOR'S VIEWS

His Excellency the Governor said:—

There was one passage in my Honourable friend Mr. Lo's speech which may cause misunderstanding. I think, because I have failed to grasp its meaning myself. He said that he thought it unnecessary to segregate tents as if they were unclean things. I know several English sea-side resorts very well and at each of them, if my memory is correct, there are places in which you may stick up a tent and places in which you may not. There is certainly no question there of tents being isolated as if they were unclean, a word which incidentally has inherited from Jewish law unpleasant associations with swine and leprosy and whose use I therefore deprecate in the present connection. There is a systematized sharing of the available area between permanent bathing shelters, tent and perhaps a few survivals of bathing machines, and as much of the shore as possible is kept clear for children to play and for grown-ups to sit or lie about in. The Regulations as drafted in the Schedule to this Bill seem to me to enable a similar sharing of amenities here, and I cannot at present see any reason for amending them on this point.

BILL DISCUSSED

The Bill was then discussed in committee clause by clause.

Coming to the first schedule, the Hon. Mr. Paterson remarked that his own feeling was that dogs should not be allowed on bathing beaches at all. He was fond of dogs but did not think that the beach was the right place for them. It was all very well having a dog on the lead but it was quite obvious that the dog was going to do certain things on the beach.

The Attorney General stated that there were some people who took their dogs with them to spend the day at the beach and did not like to leave their dogs at home which did not seem unreasonable provided the dog was kept on the lead.

Hon. Mr. Paterson's amendment to the regulation that dogs be kept on the lead was carried.

In the course of further discussion, Hon. Mr. Lo withdrew his proposal to move the deletion of Regulations 2 (3) and (4) of the regulations governing bathing places, and added that in view of what His Excellency the Governor had said regarding "unclean things" he would withdraw the remark.

His Excellency: Thank you very much, Mr. Lo.

His Excellency added that the scenic beauty of the Colony's bathing beaches had to be maintained and not spoiled with tents dotted all over the places. The erection of tents had to be systematic.

The Attorney General then moved that the Bill be read a third time.

The Colonial Secretary seconded and the Bill was passed.

board a boat and was carried on in the night. Whistles were blown and a crowd gathered.

The magistrate: Were they quarrelling verbally or otherwise?

Inspector Shannon: Both verbally and physically.

One woman complained to his Worship that she lost her earrings during the squabble and was advised not to fight again.

The defendants, Leung Kiu, 21, married woman, and Leung Mak, aged 19, spinster, were bound over to keep the peace.

The case attracted many Yau-mat boat folk who were interested spectators in Court.

of the existence of which the Authorities had no knowledge and, if so, will Government state whether any explanation has been called for from the Departments concerned as to how such a large number of divans can exist without the knowledge of the Authorities?

Will Government state whether any steps have been taken to suppress these divans and, if so, with what result?

Colonial Secretary: Government has long been aware of the existence in the Colony of a large number of opium divans. The main difficulty in the suppression of these divans is that in many cases their location changes from day to day and it is not possible to do more than is being done at present without a very material increase in the Preventive Staff of the Imports and Exports Department.

The attention of the Honourable Member is invited to the Annual Administrative Reports of the Superintendent of Imports and Exports for the years 1933 and 1934. Steps are continually being taken to prosecute divan keepers and to check so far as possible the entry of illicit opium from which the divans draw their supplies. In 1935 the convictions obtained against divan keepers numbered 557.

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

Antamok Raises Mill Capacity

Ore treated during June averaged 657 tons a day at the Antamok Goldfields mill, and, with the installation of the fourth power unit late in July, the normal mill capacity will be 750 tons daily, according to the monthly progress report released.

Gold Creek supplied 978.68 tons of ore during the month, with an average value of $5.17 per ton, while Antamok produced 18,744 tons with an average value of $8.45 (figures old price of gold).

Ore produced from development was 6,981 tons, representing 37.2 per cent of the ore milled and 34.2 per cent of the gross value.

Development work showed good results throughout the month. On the 630 level the 630 heading advanced west a total of 170 feet with average grade over a five foot width averaging $8 per ton. On the 730 level development raises all advanced in ore assaying over $10 per ton.

On the 830 level exceptionally good values have been encountered in the stopes. Trammeling conditions on the 1180 level have been so improved that haulage on two shifts keeps the mill bins full. To date no increase in water has been noticed in the new ore pass.

On the 600 level the drift on number 9 vein advanced 45 feet in commercial ore. Work has been abandoned on the 820 level.

On the States Group, 730 level number 2 has cut a mineralized zone but it is impossible to tell as yet whether or not this is the vein. Progress in other tunnels has been normal.

Milling conditions were normal through the month, with run time of 94 per cent. Gold extraction showed an improvement over the previous month by 1.8 per cent, or a total of 90.8 per cent recovered.
